Stoll's face flushed and he repeated that the address was correct as far as he knew. When Blanton chided him for not making an effort to find out for certain if the house at 1242 Nineteenth street where a Mr. Edward J. Bastable is supposed to live was the place where Stoll's "gang of conspirators" met, Stoll pounded his fist on the table, drew a deep breath and shouted at Blanton:

"You can say what you please, Mr. Blanton, but you are inferring that something wrong went on there."

"Well, what's sacred or hallowed about this house, anyway?" Blanton asked.

WILLIS PROMINEN OHIO SENATE SEAT. SUCCEEDING WILLIS

Gov. A. V. Donahey Will Make Appointment to Serve for Unexpired Term.

PRIMARY SITUATION STIRS BOTH PARTIES

Curtis, Watson and Lowden Listed as Second Choices on Senator's Slate.

Columbus, Ohio, March 30 (A.P.).—
Appointment of a successor to Senator Frank B. Willis, who died tonight at Delaware, and the effect of his death on the approaching primary, April 24, when he was to have matched strength with Secretary Herbert Hoover for delegates to the Republican national convention, occupied the spotlight of political interest here tonight after word of his death was received.

With the appointment of his successor in the hands of Gov. A. V. Donahey, a Democrat, it was anticipated that a Democrat would be nominated to serve out his term, expiring in November.

Among those mentioned as leading candidates for the place were Gyrus Locher, commerce director in the governor's cabinet and a candidate for the senatorial nomination; James M. Cox, Dayton publisher, and candidate for president in 1920, Newton D. Baker, of Cleveland, Secretary of War under President Wilson; former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene, of Cleveland; George White, of Marletta, Democratic national committeeman, and Claude Meeker, of Columbus, several times considered as a senatorial aspirant.

Clarence J. Brown, secretary of state, was on his way here from Blanchester. Ohlo, his home, tonight to examine the primary election law and files of his department before ruling on inquiries as to who will take the place of the late senator in the Ohio primary. Brown expressed the opinion tentatively that the senator could not be replaced on the preference ballot, and that the Willis candidates would continue on the ballot in the delegate fight. He emphasized, however, that that was unofficial and subject to revision. The secretary of state further was of the opinion that no one second choice candidate could be advanced to first choice position. There are three such, subject to Republican voters' choice—Charles Curtis, Kansas; James E. Watson, Indiana, and Frank O. Lowden, Illinois.

Be Secretary Hoover, also a candidate, to enter his name in the Ohio Republican presidential primaries. Senator Willis was married in 1894 to Miss Allie Dustin, of Galena, Ohio. He survived by her and one daughter, Helen, who is a teacher at Ohio Northern University. Willis was one of the few Republicans in the last few decades to serve as overnor of Ohio. He was elected in 1914 over James M. Cox, who in 1920 was nominated by the Democrats for the opinion that no one second choice caudidate could be advanced to first choice—Charles Curtis, Kansas; James E. Watson, Indiana, and Frank O. As senators go, Mr. Willis was young.
His death came as a great shock to his colleagues. He was a born campaigner and had invaded every nook his years in public life.

Thought He Could Win. Thought He Could Win.

His closest friends say he really thought he might be nominated this year for President by the Republicans. He wanted the Ohio delegation and refused to listen to suggestions that he accept a complimentary Ohio vote for a ballot or two in the Kansas City convention. The result was the entry of Hoover into the Ohio primary, brought about when his supporters saw no chance of annexing second-choice votes from Willis delegates.

about when his supporters saw no chance of annexing second-choice votes from Willis delegates.

For the past month, Willis had been spending his week-ends in Ohio campaigning against Hoover, the rest of the time attending to his senatorial duties in Washington. This week he put his speechmaking back home on a three-day-a-week basis. Last night he spoke in Toledo, home city of Walter F. Brown, Assistant Secretary of Commerce and one of the directors of the Hoover campaign in Ohio. To night he went to his home town of Delaware. He had looked forward to the home-coming, and had planned to give everything he had in his appeal for support and his attack on Mr. Hoover. Tomorrow night he had planned to speak in Lima.

For years a college professor, Willis was actively identified with the dry element of his State. In past campaigns he always had the support of the Antisaloon League, the birhtplace of which is Ohio, and within the last few days the presidential candidacy of Mr. Willis received the Indorsement of the Ohio Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

High Hat for Statue Of Kemal Causes Row

Constantinople, March 30 (A.P.). The failure of the sculptor to carve a silk hat on a new statue of President Kemal has caused a serious dispute between the Turkish Minister of Education and the committee in charge of the statue. It is now being made by the Italian sculptor, Canonica, and is to be erected in the main square of this city. The minister of education objects to the statue's representing the headgear of Astrakhan, which the Kemalists wore instead of the fez before the hat was made obliga-tory. Even though the statue depicts President Kemal in uniform as commander-in-chief of the army of independence, he should be shown wearing the emblem of the new Turkey, the minister of education says—od that is a high silk

Despite the objections of the committee, telegrams flew to the Italian sculptor who replied from his studio in Bologna that since the statue virtually is finished, it is too late to put on the sllk top piece.

NEGRO DEMOCRATS BARRED AT PRIMARY

Richmond Court Refuses Writ to Compel Acceptance of Vote.

Richmond, Va., March 30 (A.P.). Judge Beverly D. Crump, of Law and Equity Court, today ruled that negro Democrats are not eligible to vote in the city Democratic primary next Tues

The court denied the petition of James O. West, negro, asking for a writ of mandamus to compel the judges of election of Madison ward to accept his vote and sustained a demurrer filed by of Virginia.

Judge Crump held that a party primary is a party affair and not an af-fair of the State. Statutes covering primaries, he ruled, were in exercise of he State's police power rather than election legislation denying rights of mary just as they were before passage of the present law. The law, he declared, provides for supervision of primaries, but does not prevent parties from making their own rules.

Society Folk Attend

William Beatty, municipal court balliff and a ward worker in the Thompson-Crowe Republican faction, was shot and seriously wounded last night by one of twelve Federal prohibition agents in a raid on a South State street saloon. The shooting of Beatty was made mysterious by determination of the Federal men to handle the affair independent of police.

Thought it Was Holdup.

The agents, headed by G. F. Golding, chief of the general investigators who are presumably working directly out of Washington, arrived at the saloon armed with pistols, shotguns, sledge hammers and a machine gun. Beatty and his wife, who had dropped into the place from a political meeting, believed the place was being held up by robbers. Mrs. Beatty later said that she and Beatty started for the back door. "Some one shouted to us to stop," she said, "but we were afraid to. Then there was a shot, and my husband fell. When police, answering a riot call, reached the place they were refused entrance by the Federal men. A second squad with a patrol wagon followed. Beatty, with a bullet wound in his left side, was placed in the patrol wagon and taken under Federal guard to a hospital.

of the organization, too, remains to be seen. Only a few of the leaders of the organization had the nerve to break away and support the Secretary in the face of Senator Willis' patronage threat, but observers have reported that many of them were not giving the senator wholehearted support. With his death they are free to do as they please.

The temptation for the Lowden forces to take over the situation will be strong. Of the 51 Willis delegates, 31 had named Lowden as their second choice, and the others, as it has been pointed out before, are piedged to other members of the so-called anti-Hoover combine. There is the suggestion that some of these really preferred Hoover as second choice but under the circumstances had to select someone other than him, and that they, too, might now want to go over to the Hoover camp.

It would not seem however, that weathy and socially prominent colonists helped to crowd the ancient red brick courthouse to capacity to hear testimony in the suit of S. A. Warner Baltazzi, Westerburg, Long Island, banker, against Mrs. Amy McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune and New York Daily News, for payment for a chestnut gelding. Bacchus II, which he sold her last March.

Smiling at times, Mrs. McCormick, in a low voice, told of making the purchase and then discovering after the horse had been put over the hunting course the day following the deal that her check be returned the horse to Mr. Baltazzi by her chauffeur, asking the Mrs. Baltazzi by her chauffeur, asking the was lame. She returned the horse to Mr. Baltazzi by her chauffeur, asking the was lame. She returned. When Mr Baltazzi by her chauffeur, asking the wind the advantage for the preference vote, the senator surface to be senator is running also as one of the delegates at large for Willis, it is well known that the situation was not of his choosing. He is believed to be more friendly to the cause of Secretary Hoover than that of any of the other candidates. It is understood that even fit has been put over the hunting course the day following the deal that her check be returned. When Mr Baltazzi by her chauffeur, asking the purchase and the court of the senator serving a large tribute vote.

This vote has no relation to delegates and the check for $3,500.

willis had served notice that he would withhold patronage from anyone who opposed him, and this had a deterrent effect on those who might have wanted to support the Secretary.

Whether there will be a realignment of the organization, too, remains to be seen. Only a few of the leaders of the organization had the nerve to hread sands of friends. His life has been supported by the service of the a man of ability and high purpose."
Said Vice President Dawes:
"Senator Willis dies in the prime of life and in the fullness of his powers. His death is a loss to this country and will be mourned as personal by thousands of friends. His life has been constructive, his aspirations high and his accomplishments in the public good. He was a sincere and upright man."

Speaker Longworth declared that he and the senator were "great friends and his sudden death was a very great shock."

And so the tributes went. No man they are free to do as they please.

The temptation for the Lowden forces to take over the situation will be strong. Of the 51 Willis delegates, 31 had named Lowden as their second choice, and the others, as it has been pointed out before, are pledged to other members of the so-called anti-Hoover combine. There is the suggestion that some of these really preferred Hoover as second choice but under the circumstances had to select someone other than him, and that they, too, might now want to go over to the Hoover camp.

It would not seem, however, that they would be able to do so as delegates. They are pledged to first and second choices under the law and with their first choice eliminated it would seem that they would have to stick to the second one or withdraw from the race.

As to whether the Lowden forces will find much encouragement from the Ohio political managers, though, its another question. When, Senator Willis first announced his candidacy no one anticipated a fight in the State. The Hoover forces were apparently satisfied to keep hands off until they learned that the senator was planning to tie up the delegates to his candidacy indefinitely, and that when it came to their second choice, that he was influencing them against Hoover.

It was only after the Hoover managers had failed in all efforts to get a satisfactory agreement with the senator that the Secretary decided to enter the fight and immediately the party squared away into two warring camps within the State. It three fear into the hearts of candidates for other of-

The story was told in the seclusion of the library of his home and his friends said it would put a new light on the famous oil land deal. El Paso, Tex., March 30 (A.P.).—In the library of his home, Aibert B. Fall tonight related more of his story of the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval cil reserve to counsel taking his deposition for use in the conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate.

Fall became much weaker during the hour and fifteen minute examination, and his physician, Dr. H. T. Safford, found it necessary to administer a heart stimulant. The former Secretary went into this seasing over the advice of his physician and soon became noticably exhausted.

At the afternoon session it was necessary to twice interrupt the taking of the deposition because of the weakened condition of Fall, but he was able to resume on each occasion after five minutes' rest.

DIVIDEND NOTICE.

Said to Have Tried to Induce Ladd to Call Off Teapot Dome Inquiry.

ADAMS AND M'ARTHUR MAY BE SUMMONED

Both Reported as Saying That Former Senator Informed Them of Incident.

Senate Reapot Dome committeemen have taken under advisement the question of calling former Senator Alva B. Adams, of Colopado, and Douglas H. McArtzur, former secretary to the late Senator Edwin F. Ladd, of North Dakota, for relation of conversations they had with Senator Ladd concerning efforts of will H. Haye to stop the oil investigation in 1924.

Both Adams, who then was a member of the Teapot Dome committee, and McArthur said yesterday that when Senator Ladd was chairman of the committee he had tole them of a visit to Washington by Hays and his attempt to use a political argument on Ladd to have him join forces with other Republicans of the committee to stop the Inquiry, which Senator Walsh (Democrat), Montana, then was vigorously pressing.

and Teapor Doine, wyo, navar on re-serves.

The North Dakota independent, who later was read out of the Republican party councils by his Senate colleagues, finally became incensed by Hays' arguments, the story goes, and made it bluntly clear that he purposed to perform his duty as chairman irrespective of the result on the Republican or any other party. Exact Time Not Recalled.

Adams was unable to recall the exactime that Ladd told him the story whether it was before or after Hays whether it was before or after Hays first appearance in March, 1924, when he failed to tell of the whole $260,000 contribution by Harry F. Sinciair to whee out the Republican party debt.

The Teapot Dome committee held a long executive session late yesterday but without reaching a decision as to when it would resume public hearings. Members said there had been a general culling out of letters and suggestions sent to the committee from many sources, with a discarding of those which obviously would bear little fruit upon investigation.

This work will continue today and after some of the more promising of the leads have been brought under investigation the committee will decide whether to proceed with public hings or to await further efforts of field investigators in running down rails of the Continental Trading Co.

ON ANTIWAR PACT Hays Refuses to Talk On Charges by Adams

Treaty Proposal.

(Associated Press.)

Foreign Minister Briand's latest note in his discussions with Secretary Kellogg concerning a treaty to outlaw war was delivered yesterday to the State Department. Its translation was immediately begun in order that it will be available for Secretary Kellogg upon his return today from a brief rest at Pinehurst, N. C.; it may be made public at that time.

The communication is in reply to the last American pressure in the proverbial oyster on this subject.

TELLS OF CONFERENCE

The incident of Secretary of the Inrior Work's treatment of Col. Clyde . Estes, of Texas, recently, took on a nore serious aspect yesterday when senator Caraway, of Arkansas, brought t up in the Senate. The Arkansas enator called the Secretary a "coward" ind said he would answer to him anywhere.

and said he would answer to him anywhere.
"I will waive any senatorial privileges," the senator said, "if I have any, if the Secretary of the Interior wants to answer me anywhere or any time."

Col. Estes, according to Senator Caraway, came to Washington representing the Chamber of Commerce of Texas and Gov. Moody in behalf of the proposed Ouachita National Park. He brought a letter to Secretary Hoovers from Hoover's campaign manager in Texas, and after a conference with Hoover went to the office of Secretary Work, who spoke to him "very abruptly."

Admiral H. A. Wiley will continue in command of the United States fleet, and Rear Admiral J. M. Reeves in that of the air squadrons of the battle fleet.

The story is a laughing drazia of conquest in biue-blooded New York society. Mrs. De Peyster, an aloof and dignified society leader, whose heart is set on maintaining her position at the head of the social procession, finds herself slipping and adopts some grotesque strategies to cover the bitter truth of her dwindling fortune and get her son married to a wealthy girl before she loses her grip on the top rung of the family ladder. She plans to take her son to Europe to break up his match with a tradesman's daughter, but her son outwits her and doesn't appear on the boat, planning to clope that night.

THE SENATE FOR A SQUARE DEAL.

The Senate committee on appropriations has stricken from the District bill the provision calling for a lump sum appropriation of $9,000,000 from the Treasury to apply toward the cost of District government, and has inserted a paragraph providing that the Treasury shall pay 40 per cent of the appropriations.

This change is in accordance with law and is a fairly equitable apportionment of the cost of the District government between the taxpayers and the Federal Government. A strictly fair apportionment would be an equal division of the cost. But the taxpayers, after having suffered gross injustice for eight ten years, will be satisfied if Congress will cause them to pay not more than 60 per cent of the District appropriations.

The Senate can force through this arrangement if it will insist upon its amendment. The House is not committed to the $9,000,-000 lump-sum arrangement by any previous understanding or by any process of figuring. It is an arbitrary, malicious and stupid arrangement, foisted upon an indifferent House by a few cheap politicians who are trying to impress their small-town constituencies by posing as watchdogs guarding the Treasury against the wolves of Washington. Every one in Congress knows that this attitude is a false pretense and an imposition upon the credulity of the constituencies in question. It is high time that these politicians should be deprived of the political graft they have developed at the expense of the National Capital. If they can not hold their jobs without misrepresenting the people of Washington they should be retired to private life.

The progress of the District of Columbia is involved in this matter of equitable apportionment of the cost of its government. The Government is taking over large areas in Washington and withdrawing them from taxation. The cost of local government therefore falls upon private taxpayers at an increasing rate. The United States is put in the position of shifting off upon private citizens the burden of maintaining services for the National Government, such as police and fire protection, lighting, sewer service, traffic regulation, street paving and cleaning, &c.

The American public has no knowledge of this situation. It is universally assumed that the Government bears the brunt of governing the District of Columbia. Many citizens throughout the States believe that the residents of Washington are a favored class, who enjoy the advantages of a National Capital while paying lower taxes than are paid in other cities. This is not true. Washington taxpayers pay more than the taxpayers of other cities, with few exceptions. Congress has come down with an iron hand upon local taxpayers, and has actually extorted from them several millions annually which should have been paid by the United States. This shameful injustice does not represent the true intent of Congress and still less does it represent the will of the American people. It has come about solely because of the pernicious activity of political tricksters in the House, seeking to advance their own political interests by lying about conditions in Washington.

Now is the time for the Senate to put a stop to this trickery. The Senate knows the true conditions here. Every senator knows that the United States should pay at least 40 per cent of the cost of government here. A little time devoted to this matter, and a little firmness on the part of the Senate, and the injustice inflicted upon taxpayers here can be ended.

TWO RECORDS BROKEN.

Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman now hold the world's record for sustained flight. At 1:14 yesterday they brought their black and orange Stinson Detroiter monoplane back to earth at Jacksonville 53 hours and 36 minutes and 41 seconds after the take-off early Wednesday morning. The old record, 52 hours 23 minutes 31 seconds, was held by the German aviators Risticz and Edzard. o

The Stinson - Haldeman accomplishment should eclipse in interest the new world's record for speed, also set yesterday by the Italian aviator, De Bernardi, at 318% miles an hour. There is ample glory in both accomplishments. Yet today the world stands in for greater need of planes that are able to | English race track, on January 26, was signal-stay aloft over long periods than of planes that are able only to fly at tremendous speed.

Two new world's records for airplane performance established in one day naturally give rise to speculation as to where the end will be. In 1921, the record for sustained flight was but slightly more than 26 hours. The 1926 Schneider cup races were won at a speed less than 250 miles an hour. When these records were made they seemed to set a permanent standard. Yet they have been eclipsed many times over. The Stinson-Haldeman endurance flight record and the De Bernardi speed record may not stand for Speeds of 500 miles an hour and sustained flights of 100 hours duration are not beyond the bounds of possibility.

SENATOR WILLIS' DEATH.

The stroke that overcame Senator Willis last night at Delaware, Ohio, resulting in his almost instantaneous death, carries a chill to the hearts of men in all political parties. It is a grim memento mori, warning them to passing controversies as to forget that death. in the twinkling of an eye, can change all situations and bring to naught all the plans of Senator Willis was a man of remarkably robust physique, and in the prime of life. His taking-off, in the midst of an exciting campaign meeting, on the eve of the primary test of his strength in Ohio, would have seemed but yesterday the most improbable of all events. But today it is a fact that alters the national political situation. The most formidable obstacle to Secretary Hoover's campaign in Ohio is swept away, and if Hoover should capture the Ohio delegation the pathway to the nomination for the Presidency may be cleared for him. Thus fate plays with men as with puppets, and the philosopher looking upon the moving picture called life is prompted to ask whether it is worth while to strive, when accident and mere chance are more potent than all the schemes of men.

Gov. Donahey, of Ohio, is a Democrat, and no doubt he will appoint a Democrat to succeed Mr. Willis. The name that suggests itself at once is that of Atlee Pomerene, Senator Willis' recent opponent. Mr. Pomerene made a fine record in the Senate, and has been often suggested as a suitable nominee for President. Perhaps Gov. Donahey has ambitions of his own in the direction of the Senate What he will do is yet to be disclosed.

MERGER MODIFICATIONS.

The Public Utilities Commission has approved a modified version of the street railway merger agreement. It has permitted the companies to retain the $50,000,000 rate base as provided for in the original agreement. It has stricken out the guaranteed 7 per cent return thereupon, however, substituting the phrase "a reasonablé rate of return." It inserted no guarantees as to service, made no demand for free transfers between buses and street cars, and approved the purchase by the new company of the Washington Rapid Transit Co. at the price of $1,146,000, with the stipulation that the bus company must be absorbed and liquidated when and if the commission shall require it.

The modified agreement doubtless will be acceptable to the present companies, whose representative sat with the commission during the final discussions. It must, however, be approved by the stockholders as well as the directorates before it can be transmitted to Congress.

Washington now stands nearer a unified traction system than ever before, although the merger agreement still has a long and rocky road to travel. The Federation of Citizens Associations, through William McK. Clayton and William A. Roberts, who represented the body at the public hearings, predict that the revised agreement will not meet with congressional approval. "The merger as it stands," said Mr. Clayton, is open to attack from many angles." "I am unable to said Mr. Roberts, "that there is any in the offer made by the Public Utilities Commission to the companies."

Nevertheless, a definite agreement has been reached-an attainment that appeared impossible several weeks ago. If it represents no "considerable" victory for the street car rider, it should be remembered also that the companies have had to make concessions. Neither side, for that matter, has reason or right to expect a "considerable" victory, for a fair merger agreement must benefit and protect equally both operator and rider.

THE WORLD'S HARDEST HORSE RACE.

It has been truly said that the Liverpool Grand National Steeplechase, decided on the famous track at Aintree, stands alone among the sporting events of the world. It is sui generis, unique, peerless, or, as a fifteenth century English poet would have put it, it is 'A per se"-a terse and telling phrase which means far more than the modern "A1 at Lloyds." The distance of this race, officially given as "about 4 miles and 856 yards," and the variety and formidable character of its 30 jumps make it both a severe test of horse and rider and the most difficult race in the world to win. The Conyngham Cup at Punchestown, the Grand Annual at Fairyhouse and the Galway Plate are all heartbreaking, each in its own way, but none of them measures quite up to the standard of the 89-year-old Liverpool contest. Staying power, ability to jump, finishing speed under pressure and luck in escaping accident from riderless horses are all neces sary to success over the Aintree course.

Despite its difficulty or, perhaps, because of it, since victory means great renown, the Grand National not only retains but is even increasing its popularity. Last year 70 horses were entered for the race and 37 of them actually started. This year there were 112 entries and 42 came under the starter's orders. An international flavor was imparted to yesterday's contest by the presence of American French, Irish and English horses in the field. The crowd present in 1927 was estimated to be 150,000; in 1928 it would appear as if even that immense figure were surpassed. of these were partisans of the American-bred and owned 10-year-old brown gelding, Billy Barton, because his first appearance on an ized by a splendid victory from a field of thirteen runners, and the memory of that great win was by no means effaced by three subse quent defeats.

The uncertainties of racing and the difficulty of the Aintree track were finely illustrated by the result. Out of the 42 horses which left the starter's hands only 2 caught the judge's eye at the other end; the others all came to grief and were unable to complete the course. The first home was Tipperary Tim, and Billy Barton, under 151 pounds, was second: but, at that, he too, fell and had to be remounted. Tipperary Tim, carrying 140 pounds, the lowest weight allowed in the handicap, was a rank outsider at 100 to 1 against, as his previous performances well warranted, for on February 7 and March 1 he was unplaced in minor races. The odds against Billy Barton were 33 to 1. Those who backed him for a place, which in England means 1, 2, 3, will receive 81/4 to 1, or one-fourth of the odds to win, and will thus come out rather handsomely. By finishing second Billy Barton earned $3,500 from the stakes. To have completed so difficult a course on a day on which so many really great jumpers, like Easter Hero, Amberwave, Maguelonne, and Carfax, fell, is a genuine credit to the Baltimore horse, and shows that was well worth while to send him across the Atlantic to take his chance in the great Liverpool event. His owner, Howard Bruce, and his Irish rider, Cullinan, are to be heartily congratulated.

CHICAGO'S APPEAL FOR HELP.

Chicago has once more appealed to th Federal Government for aid. This time It is suggested that 500 additional deputy United States marshals be sworn in to insure a fair election at the April 10 primary. Presumably, a Federal interest will be suggested, on the ground that these deputies are needed to enforce the dry laws. But the primary, which is the immediate cause of all the lawlessness, is not a Federal agency. It is a means adopted by the political parties to determine who their candidates shall be in the November election. The decent citizens of Chicago, if they are still in the majority, have the solution of all their problems in their own hands. The ballot box is a far more effective weapon to bring an end to an alliance between politics and crime than any at the command of the United States.

It is not now and never has been the duty of the Government to interfere in the affairs of a State. It would be the height of folly for Attorney General Sargent to heed the present appeal. The most probable outcome of any such action would be a massed assault by the criminal element of Chicago upon the representatives of the Department of Justice, The result would be a far more serious situation than that which exists now.

The country is shocked by conditions in Chicago. It sympathizes with those respectable citizens who through choice or necessity make that city their home. It must insist, however, that they clean up their own city. It is impossible to conceive how conditions such as exist in Chicago could have come to pass without the acquiescence of misguided or apathetic voters. What Chicago needs most is the determination to be rid of corruption

ST. FRANCIS DAM.

The commission appointed by Gov. C. C. Young of California to investigate the St Francis Dam disaster has reported. Samples of foundation taken from under the westerly wall of the dam, it says, were found to soften and change to a granular mass when immersed in water. This matter is of such a nature, it continues, that when dry it appears hard and rock-like, even though it is defective in cohesive strength. With such a formation, the commission finds, collapse of the dam would have been inevitable unless water could have been kept away from the foundation.

The fact that water found its way through the foundations has been brought out conclusively by experts testifying before the coronor's jury conducting an independent investigation. These experts said that no part of the dam rested on bedrock proper. eastern side and the base rested on mica schist, which could be considered bedrock. conglomerate formation, through which water apparently had flowed, disintegrating it to the point where it no longer could sustain the load placed upon it.

Findings of the governor's commission are embodied in three general conclusions: First, failure of the dam was due to defective foundations; second, there is nothing to indicate that the accepted theory of gravity type dam is in error; third, the failure indicates the desirability of having all such structures erected and maintained under the supervision and control of State authority.

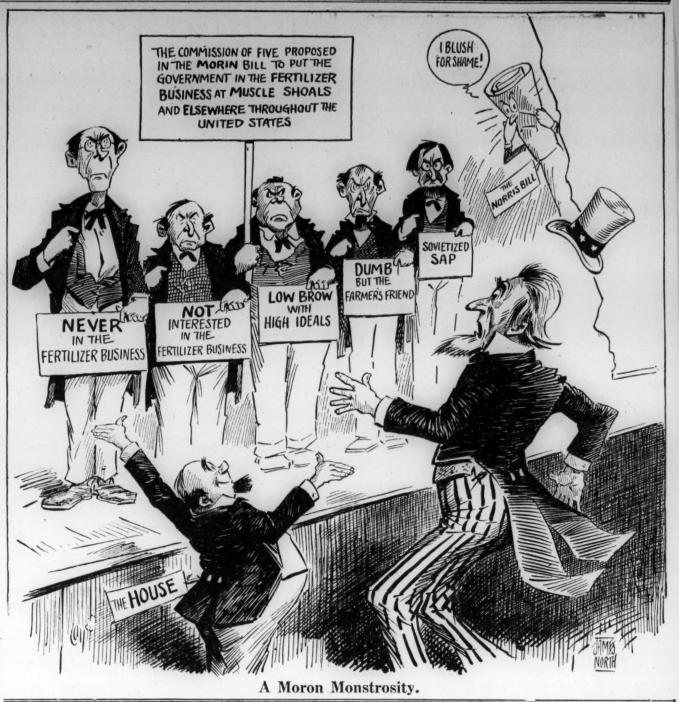

The fact that this commission found that the St. Francis disaster was not caused by a false theory of construction should serve to reassure those living in the shadow of other great reservoirs. It was only natural that when this dam, so recently constructed, went out suddenly and unexpectedly the question should have been raised as to the stability of others. The commission gives reassurance, however, with its statement that the accepted theory of gravity type dam design is fundamentally sound. The crux of the report lies in its third conclusion. It is desirable, says the commission, that all such structures should be erected and maintained under the supervision and control of State authority. St. Francis Dam, as practically all others now built or in process of construction, served a public located at a distance. Its potential danger did not affect those whom it served, and its construction and maintenance should have been placed in the hands of representatives of those who were most affected by its failure. Quite aside from this consideration, however, is the patent fact that all dams should be built and servicedafter their construction by thoroughly competent engineers, and that the State, in most cases, is better able than the municipality to command experienced engineering authority

The Remus case needs no embellishment. The order of events makes it as as ever recorded in the history of American jurisprulence. He was acquitted of the murder of his wife in December on "the sole ground of insanity." Immediately afterward the probate court ruled that Remus was sane, but "too dangerous to be at large." Now the court of appeals by a three to two verdict has held that "there was not sufficient evidence" to hold Remus in the asylum. assurance that there is balm in Gilead; that there is a physician at hand, and that the health of our sons and daughers is recovered. To a weary, disappointed, suffering, sinning world, Christian Science says: Look up! for 'the night is far spent, the day is at hand.' There is no-condition of moral, mental or physical distress which can not be healed through the application of the teachings of Christian Science.

"The salvation of which mankind is

The salvation of which mankind is and deliverance from sin, sickness and death, and is accomplished through spiritualization of thought. All that needs to be healed or reformed is erroneous, sinful thinking, so when the odiousness of sin becomes apparent—in other words, when we see sin for what it actually is—we turn from it with loathing. Thus, as thought is purified, we stop sinning, and we find that discordant bodily conditions are also healed. For centuries we have accepted as real and inescapable all sorts of mischlevous, sinful suggestions which, after once gaining entrance into our mental conce gaining entrance into our mental home, are very apt to breed a lively swarm of attendant evils, until we have become so filled with sin in such forms as envy, jealousy, hatred, malice, resentment, and the like, that it is small wonder we have suffered physically. "It is your divine right to assert your dominion over these arguments which would rob you of your peace and freedom. It matters not whether the argument takes the form of sin, sorrow or disease, you can successfully resist every effort of evil to invade the harmony of your being. God's child is by nature honest, pure and loving. Anything which appears to the contrary is due to false education. The pure in heart do not wilfully acquire a sinful habit or a false appetite, but evil is oft presented in attractive forms and, unless we are afert was may be tempted for a moment to listen to the false arguments of material sense. Parts of two loins of lamb are used for the crown roast, and the butcher will, I am sure, make ready this roast for you. Following is the method of preparation: The ends of the chops, the bone sticking up, must be protected from the heat, which will burn them to an unattractive black if they are left uncovered. This protection consists of a very stiff dough, made of flour and water and rolled or worked into little bunches, which are then stuck onto the bones. After the first hour of roasting this is cut away and small balls, or cubes, of potatoes substituted therefor, as a festive measure.

Mr. Work's Pointers Contract Bridge

TODAY'S subject will be the jumping of the partner's Minor Suitbids.

When Contract was first played in this country, there were many who made it an invariable convention to take out an initial Minor one-bid made by partner. The same convention was in vogue in the early days of Auction Bridge, but in due time was found to be without merit. In Contract, the theory that a player with a virtual bust might be forced to bid was repugnant to all sound reasoning; the danger in that kind of bidding manifested itself even more promptly than in Auction and practically from the start of Contract the idea was regarded as unsound by most experts. Forcing a partner to overcall regardless of his holding, makes his bid meaningless; and the initial bidder merely has the contract increased without obtaining any information in return.

This obligatory take-out usually was a feature of some slam producing scheme, and slam-bidding was at first considered by many theorists to be an important factor in Contract. That subject will be discussed in future articles; but it is proper to say here that the slam-bidding is now known to be a most expensive practice and has been generally abandoned.

To get down to be jumped without as much strength as is required to jump a Major; and generally with that strength as love score, a better bid—not a jump—is in order. (Earlier in this series of articles there was explained a system of subcle two-bids; when this series of articles there was explained a system of subcle two-bids is upon to be subject to a strictly conventional interpretation and is answered accordingly.)

When the declaring side has a score, a Minor should be at a love score. To illustrate: South. one Diamond West pass; North holds:

Another question I should like to ask is how should a program dance be conducted? Should both boys and girls have programs and the boys ask girls if dances? EMBARRASSED.

According to social usage, a boy should ask a girl's permission before he introduces another boy to her. After obtaining it the other boy, now introduced (who was dancing with the second girl mentioned), would have intro-

As the incident happened, the boys did what incident happened, the boys did what they thought right as naturally as they could and meant no harm. There is no reason why a young man, not knowing a young woman's name, should not, under the circumstances, ask for it. Correctly, the boy of the first couple is thould have said, "Miss Brown, may I introduce my friend; Mr. Jones?"

Whereupon Mr. Jones would have become classic. No spring wardrobe is complete without one or two of them. So I have sketched for you three that are entirely different and entirely smart. The first one shown, at the top, is from Chanel and was worn by Mme. de Fontaine in Cannes, It is of blue wool with a slight rib and with borders in red and white. Mme, de Fontaine in Cannes, It is of blue wool with a white cracella skirt and looked very smart indeed. With it, she wore a red-white-and-blue printed scarf or shantung and a navy blue felt hat with a band of white grosgrain edged with a narrow band of red.

The second sweaters, shown in the middle, is a hand-knitted model in light navy blue. The collar and cuffs are white, as are also the embroidered initials on the pocket.

The third sweater is one worn by Mme. de Breauseleit. It was knitted in

The values of walking can not be overestimated. A brisk walk, taken with long, full rhythmic steps not only stimulates the circulation, eucourages the figure to keep its slim proportions, but, invariably, lifts our spirits to the point where we view the world as a mighty decent place to stay in, after all.

Needless to say, if our walks are to be enjoyed to the utmost, we must be properly dressed for this form of exercise. For long hikes in the country, flat-heeled shoes are best; when the ground is likely to be damp, rubber soles are the best choice. Cuban heels on sturdy shoes will be found quite comfortable for the walking that is done in town. (Incidentally, why do so many people discount the pleasures of walking in the city? The great avenues provide much for the eyes, and fresh air and sunshine abound here as well as in the country. Furthermore, all cities have parks, where each season makes a revelation of changes, and these afford pleasant paths for the weightlosing walker and for the woman whose quiet walk is meant to afford relaxation.) But to go on—skirts should be stiffciently ample so as not to impede the gait. New skirts with circular flares or with any of the varied kinds of pleats answer the problem smartly. While one should go out well protected, to go tightly muffled up or to wear constricting clothing interferes with the 31 To dress in best 32 Favorable side of things

Answer—An attendance at an agricultural fair ought to prove that there is a transmission of qualities. A farmer will pay a big price for a cow with a heritage or a dog with a pedigree. Yet with improper care and feeding, housing and personal attention, the stock depreciates. The Barrymore family are all stage folks. It is doubtful if any talent was inherited. Environment counted tremendously. Caruso's little daughter, Gloria, is showing marked musical ability. Her mother has endeavored to bring this about by environment. It is hard to believe that even at the age of 17 any girl could be so rash as to enter into an engagement with a many who she has never seen and of whom she knows nothing except what he may care to tell her.

Mitzi has one of the new cape dresses with a cape that hangs from only one shoulder. A dress, moreover, with a printed design, almost like a monogram, just spotting its marine blue surface in three or four places. Mitzl is asking advice about her novel. She has the rough draft almost done and she wants to know what every one thinks about it. Polly (in a dress with straight tiers on the blouse and slanting tiers on the skirt) is saying that she thinks it would be nice if Mitzi would turn it into a detective story, but as Mitzi answers, no one can wear nice cloths when being chased by the police. Dad says a little more travel, but jungles and deserts aren't friendly to fashions either.

Aunt Sophia's dress is navy with ajour trimming. The gilet is white georgette. Aunt Sophia is saying that she thinks it would be nice if Mitzi would make it a farm novel, but what can one do for styles on a farm? Mitzi is almost discouraged about the advice her family offers for this novel. They don't seem to appreciate her effort to bring fashion into literature. Mitzi's crepe frock has a round detachable cape over a blouse that is really bloused. The skirt is box pleated all around. Since the dress is especially becoming to Mitzi, the Goofer is about to tell her that her novel is splendid—he'd only suggest a little more heart interest and he'd be awfully glad to coach her on that!

Radio Is Star Actor as Prices Soar in 4,759,300-Share Trading.

19 NEW HIGHS RECORDED

New York, March 30.—Prices swept orward by leaps and bounds in tumuluous speculation on the Stock Exhange today, with gains of 5 to 24½ oints spread thickly through the list. The lid was off and it was no longer case of wild gyrations of a handful stocks, but a decided bulge in the enire list. The character of stocks that seen underlying the stocks but a decided bulge in the enire list. The character of stocks that seen conservative favorates was such as to give the whole maret an appearance of underlying trength. The most conservative raiload, public utility, industrial investment stocks and specialties were the enter of a wild orgy of buying. The icker always was behind from 5 to 40 ainutes and the turnover of 4.759.300 hares, the largest in the history of he stock exchange. Forty-nine stocks trained new peak prices for the year of underlying the session.

Radio was the star actor of the day, spening at 173 and soaring to a new op. price for all time at 195, the closage price, a net advance of 24½ points, in a turnover of 265,000 shares.

General Motors opened at 187, dropared to 186%, then whirled up to 192, where it held to the close, a net gain of 7 points, but 5 points below its rener was 305,200 shares.

General Electric opened at 153, respected to 152½, then mounted to 159, he final price, in a turnover of 215, 500 shares, up 8 points net as compared with yesterday's final price.

The utility and mining groups contributed more brisk gainers, in proporti. 1 to their size, than the industrial. Consolidated Gas. Public Service of New Jersey, Commonwealth Power, Brooklyn Edison, Greene. Cananea, Anaconda, Calumet & Arizona and International Nickel were among the most buoyant. Sinclair, Marland and a few other oils showed considerable strength. The railroad group stood out markedly in the upswing. Union Pacific, Southern Railway and St. Paul common and preferred established new peak prices for the year or more, while many others of the group scored substantial gains. The movement here was given impetus by the publication of a compilation of carrier earnings for February of the first 71 class 1 roads to report. These showed an increase in net of about 1 per cent over the figures for February of 1927. Not since November have the class 1 roads shown an increase over the corresponding month of the preceding year. Portuguese rates attained a new high point and Italian declined slightly as did French and Swiss francs, and Scandinavians tended slightly higher. Japanese was up 10 points. The Uruguayan peso also rallied.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, March 30 (A.P.).—An opening advance was followed by devines in the cotton market today, July selling off from 19.26 to 18.98 and closing at 19.03, compared with 19.17 at the close yesterday. The general market closed steady, at net declines of up to 15 points.

The market opened steady at finchinged prices to an advance of 4 points and showed net gains of about 7 to 9 points in early trading on covering or rebuying, and a moderate trade demand promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of vain in the Eastern and Central belts. The buying was in small volume, and the market eased later under realizing or liquidation, while there also appeared to be some Southern selling. May sold off from 19.42 to 19.12 and October from 18.91 to 18.65, net declines of 17 to 22 points on active months and reactions of approximately 50 points compared with the high prices touched at the beginning of the week. Failure of unfavorable features in the weather news to bring in a more general demand was considered disappointing from the bullish standpoint, and some early buyers were said to be liquidating on the afternoon debilne. Last prices showed rallies of about 4 to 8 points from the lowest on covering, but trading was very quiet during the last half hour and no fresh news factor was mentioned in connection with the closing bulge.

There was some bearish comment on the week-end figures which showed a decrease of 71.537 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton, compared with a decrease of 317.075 the previous week, and 105.370 last year which may have contributed somewhat to the midaternoon weakness.

Trade interests were credited with buying some cotton on scale-down orders during the fay. It was rumored there were a few selling orders in the market from Southern mills, presumably as a hedge against stocks, but mothing definite developed in that connection.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 30 (AP).—Heavy selling on the part of holders of future feliveries of wheat brought about a sharp setback today in prices here. Much of the selling was to realize profits, but unlooked for declines at diverpool, slowness of export call, and exter moisture conditions for the joinestic crop were also influential. Corn and oats were responsive to wheat weakness. Corn news, however, was mainly buillish, weather over the belt being stormy, and farm holdings of corn in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois being reported as very small. On the other hand, Southwestern messages forecast that a somewhat larger movement from farms would be witnessed in the near future.

RAIL AND UTILITY BONDS SHOW UP BEST IN BUYING

Semispeculative Issues Are Strong: High-Grade Leans Irregular.

ST. PAULS IN LIMELIGHT

New York, March 30 (A.P.) .- Continu ed strength of the semispeculative issues and irregularity among highgrade mortgages characterized today's active bond market. Much of the buying of convertible issues, several of which made new high ground, probably was in the nature of overflow from the stock market, while the slowing up of leading investment issues probably was caused by the recent stiffening of time

One or two of the high grade railroads, however, made a good showing. notably Southern Railway 5s. which advanced more than a point to a new maximum. Some of the gilt-edged pub-lic utilities also moved toward higher ground, including an advance to a new year's high by Western Union 5s. Philadelphia company 5s were in supply.

St. Paul issues were again in the ilmelight, the adjustment 5s continuing to score in new high territory with at extreme gain of 2 points. Copper bonds were active and buoyant, new peak levels being reached by Anaconda, Andes 7s and Chile 5s, all of which changed hands in large volume. Kayser & Co. 5½s sold as high as 121% for the first time on a turnover of nearly $500,000.

Further sharp recovery was made by

Further sharp recovery was made ny most of the Seaboard liens, and National Railway of Mexico 4s gained a point in further reflection of improved relations between the United States and the Latin American Republic.

South American issues were the star performers in the foreign group, Peruvian 7½s and Colombian Land Bank 7s attaining their best levels of the year. Other foreign bonds, in the main, were firm, but not especially active.

United States Government obligations were unusually quiet.

United States Government obliga-tions were unusually quiet.

Public offering is expected shortly of $50,000,000 American Gas & Electric Co. debenture 5s on a yield basis of approximately 4.95 per cent.

THE WASHINGTON LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY

To all our friends and customers:

The officers and directors of the Company cordially invite you to visit and inspect the completed work of reconstruction of its banking room and the new addition to the office building on F Street at Ninth between the March 31.

The Company was incorporated August 15, 1889. The first place of business was at the northwest corner of Tenth and P Streets until the "New Granite Building", as it was then called, was completed in 1891. It was the first modern, fire-proof office building in Washington, built to house the pieneer trust company of the District.

Extensive remodeling was undertaken in 1912 which, it was believed, would provide ample accommodations for many years to come. However, constantly increasing business necessitated further expansion and in 1926 the present addition and reconstruction was commenced. Now we have a greatly enlarged, thoroughly equipped and upto-date establishment that provides ample accommodations for still further growth. The construction is the work of Hoggson Bros., bank specialists, of New York and Chicago, under the direction of our architect, Arthur B. Heaton.

Our officers welcome the opportunity to show you the impressive banking room, bond department and real estate offices on the main floor; the spacious trust department on the third floor; the massive safe deposit vault; the new foreign department, with which is connected the Washington Branch of Thos. Cook and Son, whe take care of all travel service; and finally, on the tenth floor, the directors' room and the restaurant of the bank's personnel.

Do not fail to view the striking painting in the bank lobby by John Faed of Washington receiving a salute at the battle of Trenton.

Sordially yours,

Johnson, Ill and Weak, Here For Long Rest at Hospital

That the final decision to bring Johnson here will prove to be a wise move, despite his present condition, is the firm belief of Clark Griffith and Dr. Kaufman. The latter feels that at Emergency Hospital where he is chief of staff, Johnson will be under his personal supervision. That the change has been beneficial to Johnson himself, was plainly evident.

"Johnson wanted to come back to Washington and it cheered him greatly, when we picked him up at Jacksonville," President Griffith declared last night. He has improved even since that time, as he could barely walk when we first saw him. We noticed a great change in him when we had reached Washington as this is home to him," Griffith declared.

It is the belief of President Griffith and Dr. Kaufman that Johnson will round back into shape in a month and these deductions hinge upon observa-tions and tests within the next few days Johnson has dropped considerable weight and is down to 165 pounds or weight and is down to 165 bothus or less, 30 or more pounds below his average playing weight of 195 or 200 pounds. While Dr. Kaufman is not entirely familiar with the results of tests or the observations made while Johnson was at Jacksonville, he is con-training was steady and satisfactory. It might not, therefore, be a bad idea to give Bowle platers he up and down. Many a bet may be won and at profitable odds by keeping track of such.

Missionary, once a near star, impresses the writer favorably. The whimsical son of Hourless, which won his last face of last November, has been going highty well under the eye of U.S. Wichard. He looked ready as he galloped against the bit over the Bowie course Friday.

Aucilla is the star of the thoroughl

Aucilla is tile star of the thoroughly seasoned string of George Brenton, of Manassas. Many Bowle work watchers believe he will repeat Tuesday his victory of last April in the $5.000 Inaugural Handicap, a dash of 7 furlongs for 3-year-olds and over, and the prospective opening day's feature.

But let it not be forgotten that Brenton has Altissimo, Ruban Rouge, Defonds and Girssol, all as right as Aucilla has proved himself. Altissimo didn't race last season, but he won four times the season before. Deronda won twice last season, so did Ruban Rouge, Girasol once. Girasol and Molile Elizabeth are promising 3-year-olds.

And Brenton may be training a genuinely good 2-year-old in a daughter of the gigantic My Play, brother of Man o' War and Jockey Club Gold Cup winner, and June Flower, a juvenile whirl-whind in Maryland a few seasons back This filly is small, like June Flower. But Buck Forman holds that she is worth all the other Brenton horses put together. She may win the $2.500 Bowle Kindergarten, although the competition promises to be keen.

The 4-year-old Tazewell, which Capt J. C. Bennett, U. S. A., retired, recently brought up from Virginia, with Skirmisher and the 3-year-old Top o' the Morn, looks like about $10,000. Skirmisher is museled up like a horse in June condition.

Tazwell, a son of the French Derby winner Tched, won eight races last season; Skirmisher, Maryland-bred son of Theo Cook, one. Don't be surprised if Maxie, of B. E. Chapman's big bunch, wins at the first asking. He did that last spring. Chapman's Canadian-bred Nealon Kay has, within the week, stepped 7 furlongs in better than 1:29, and a mile in 1:43.

Aucilla, Centrifugal, Contemplate, Senator Norris, Bulletin, Corporal, Shasta Lad, Tester, Sublime and other speedsters have made the clockers sit up and take notice.

Out Bowie way a majority of the horsemen seem to think that Centrifugal and Aucilla will be the ones found fighting it out for the large end of the purse. H. G. He is inclined to fancy that Senator Norris is more advanced in training than Bulletin and probably will shoot for all the kale with this good sprinter.

SCHOOLING JUVENILES AS BOWIE RACE MEETING NEARS

Addison A. C. Holds Practice Tomorrow

The Addison Athletic Club Baseball team will hold practice at 2 o'clock Sunday on the Friends School Diamond. All players and candidates are urged to report for practice.

The unusual finish today recalled a somewhat similar ending in 1911 when Glenside won all by himself from a field of 25 starters. Complications have arisen among the betting fraternity in asmuch as there was no third place winner to decide many wagers.

Many thousands of pounds remain as undistributed from the nation-wide pools. The $200.000 Liverpool Sweepstakes reserved large sums for the fourth-place winner as well as substantial prizes for all horses that finished. No way has been found to distribute the surplus.

Browns Lose on Pass With Three on Base

Kansas City, Mo., March 30 (A.P.).—
With the buses filled in the tenth inning. Pitcher Beck, of the St. Louis Browns, issued a free licket to Shortstop Gigney, of the Kansas City Blues to give the American Association team a 3-2 victory in an exhibition game today.

Blaeholder, a recruit from Tulsa, held the Blues to four hits for the first nine innings. He was replaced in the tenth by Beck, who was touched for a double by Kuhel, followed by three bases on balls.

Few Stake Horses Are Ready for Test at This Time.

Dowle, Md. M- ch LJ.—Racing programs can't possibly be made up from day to day of all star affairs. There are not enough Man o' Wars, Grey Lags, Sir Bartons, Crusaders, Espinos, Whiskerys and Nimbas. There never will be. There are not erough stars ready in apring to justify the Bouthern Mary-land Agricultural -association in put-ting on any such elaborate program of stakes as the Harford Agricultural and Breeders. Association does at Havre de Orace, to say nothing of the dazzling May card of the Maryla..d Jockey Club at Pimileo.

at Pimlico.

But there are always pienty of stout platers at Bowle in April, and this year more of the lot that winter 1 in these parts are ready than Joseph McLennan, clerk of the course, generally finds available. It has been written many times that the weather of the winter past was mild and equable, that there we no sickness in my of the nearby thoroughbred colonies and that March training was steady and satisfactory. It might not, therefore, be a bad idea of the Bowle platers, he up and down. o give Bowle platers he up and down dany a bet may be won and at profit-ble odds by keeping track of such Missionary, once a near star, impresses the writer favorably. The whinsical son of Hourless, which won his last ace of last November, has been going nighty well under the eye of U. S. Wichard. He looked rendy as he ga loped against the bit over the Bowle course Friday.

Aucilia is the star of the thoroughly seasoned string of George Brenton, of Manassas. Many Bowie work watchers believe he will repeat Tuesday his victory of last April in the $5,000 Inaugural Handicap, a dash of 7 furlongs for 3-year-olds and over, and the prospective opening day's feature.

But let it not be forgotten that Brenton has Altissimo, Ruban Rouge, Deronda and Girssol, all as right as Aucilia has proved himself. Altissimo Girasol once. Girasol and Mollie Elizabeth are promising 2-year-olds. And Brenton may be training a genuinely good 2-year-old in a daughter of the gigantic My Play, brother of Man o' War and Jockey Club Gold Cup winner, and June Flower, a juvenile whirlwind in Maryland a few seasons back This filly is small, like June Flower. But Buck Forman holds that she is worth all the other Brenton horses put worth all the other Brenton horses p together. She may win the $2,500 Bookindergarten, although the competition promises to be keen.

themselves hoarse. Billy Barton was a neat 33 to 1 in the betting as a bolster to sentiment. It seemed as it Howard Bruce alone remained caim.

British turf experts differed as to the cause of the disastrous tumble. Nome thought he tripped and others that he slipped. All agreed, how-ever, that filly Barton gave one of the gamest of exhibitions in con-tinuing the race.

Passing the grand stand for the first time, Billy Barton answered the beliow of his supporters with a burst of speed that carried him along in the lead with Decombat. Great Span. May King and Tipperary Tim making the pace. The second round tumbles left only Tipperary Tim and Barton to battle on to the despairing finish.

The unusual finish today recalled a somewhat similar ending in 1911 when Glenaide won all by himself from a field of 25 starters. Complications have arisen among the betting fraternity inamuch as there was no third place winner to decide many wagers.

Many thousands of pounds remain as undistributed from the nation-wide pools. The $200,000 Liverpool Sweepstakes reserved large sums for the fourth-place winner as well as aubstantial prizes for all horses that finished. No way has been found to distribute the surplus.

horse had won Howard Bruce intended to retire the jockey to a life of ease with an independent income for the rest of his days.

Petersburg Franchise Paid For by League Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., March 30 .- In this afternoon's edition of the Progress Index newspaper here appears a communication from W. G. Braham, president of the Virginia League, on the baseball situation in Petersburg. The statement was sent from Durham, N. C., and in it Mr. Braham says the Virginia League and not any group of individuals posted the $2,000 forfeit for Petersburg in the Old Dominion circuit. In his statement Mr. Braham reviewed the attempts by himself and the league toward keeping Petersburg in the circuit and the posting of the forfeit and the guaranteeing of no financial loss to the Petersburg club at the end of the season.

Mr. Braham pointed out that inasmuch as the league was the guarantor against any loss at Petersburg and did not share in any of its profits, it proposed that the league should place in charge in that city a man who knew baseball had been successful in handling the finances of clubs and who, the guarantors felt would see that the receipts and disbursements were so safeguarded as to insure them against only such loss as was absolutely necessary.

THE Anacostia Eagles, independent champions, suffered their first District defeat of the season at the Arcadis last night when the Knights of Columbus Pive came from behind in the last minute of play to win, 22 to 21, and even the series between those rivals. The game, played for the benefit of the St. Ann's Orphan Asylum, drew more than 500 fans.

Allie McGowan proved the opportunist for the Casey, although he participated in only 35 seconds of play. Entering the game as a substitute, McGowan took a pass from Orrell Mitchell to drop in a "anowbird" shot, which alto which changed an apparent defeat to victory for the Knights.

At that, the Eagles had led only twice during the contest. The Knights began with a whirlwind attack which carried them to a 13-5 advantage at the end of the first haif. The Eagles came back strong, however, and forged to the frond. The Caseys regained the lead as the pass at the would make his boast come true.

He has a fine collection of pitchers, which are the envy of the other managers of the league. He has several hard-hitting infielders, and a trio of slugging outfielders, His team is fast and fairly good on the defense.

Yet with all these assets the Dodgers entertain only remote pennant aspirations. The difficulty lies in the fact that although Uncle Robby has available all kinds of fine material, specialties in one department, he can not find a combination which unites all these qualities of attack and defense.

Consequently Uncle Robby has been ahtiffing his players like a deck of cards recently in an effort to inject a batting punch into the Dodgers' attack without weakening its defense.

the New York Giants was that Hornaby had been lacking in respect for Stoneham and Tierney and therefore had been transferred away, notwithstanding the protests of McGraw.

McGraw, for his part, was too thoroughly committed to Hornaby as his man, his favorite ball player, his choice for the succession, to turn inside out, so to speak, in 24 hours, and eay that he approved the trade. In fact, all he did was submit and when you have Mr McGraw submitting to the transfer of his one best ball player, over his protest, you have not the dominant, independent Mr. McGraw of old. The casa of all the Polo Grounds has become a monarch of limited powers.

those clubs considered it an act of loyalty to attend no their respective layalty to attend on their layalty, as cah customers. The rivalry was quite hot and the competition close, because Mr. Oriffith has offered a headiful sup. Act of course, the Klwanians shuddered at the thought the the Rotarians should sup this symbolic urn.

In the end the Clvitans won the cup and the Clark Oriffith Baseball Attendance Championship of the Spring of 1928.

They turned out more than 1,000 strong.

The cup of course, cost comparatively nothing. But the lost was unimportant. The honor is the thing.

Bighest batting average of any player in the league over his 13-game astretch Maturally, this performance made "Babe." as he is called, a strong favorite to stick this season. However, he still a little overweight, has not been hitting enough to attract attention and right now is just one of the candinates.

This outfield fight, by the way. This outfield fight, by the way, has been most interesting and if is far from over yet. While Sammy West was showing indications of having broken down, two jobs appeared to be open and favoritism constantly shifted. Melburn Simons then dropped out of the picture while West did a comeback. There are now two vacancles as reserves left, with Ganzel, Barnes and Kloza battling for them.

It has taken only a few lessons for. Uncle Nick to correct this weakness. Wells has been shown a proper stance, which gives him an option of throwing either to first or to the catcher, while he is gradually learning a tricky near-balk movement.

proper stance, which gives him an aption of throwing either to first or to the catcher, while he is gradually learning a tricky near-balk movement.

Altrock also discovered that Wella' instability to throw a good curve was due to a stiff wrist and has shown the southpaw how to correct this.

As a result, Wells now can hold runfars to within a reasonable distance of the balters, so that they will know that he balters, so that they will know that he has it, if need be. As these were Wella' only weaknesses when he was in the balters, so that they will know that he has it, if need be. Catcher Hugh McMullen's stick work is also pleasantly sutprising his boss. The lanky catcher is notably a weak fitter, but of late he has been driving the ball to all corners of the lot. Many of his blows have been liners directly at fielders, which accounts for the fact that his average is not higher. If he keeps up the good work some of his drives are bound to fall in vacant territory at times.

Bond Issue to Victory

Culpeper, Va., March 30.—Voters in this school district today, by an overwhelming majority, carried the school bond issue of $80,000, which was balloted on at a special election. There was virtually no opposition to the bonds, which will be used for the erection of a new high school on a site adjoining that occupied by the present school.

The day was enlivened by frequent special school.

School Children Help
Bond Issue to Victory

Culpeper, Va., March 30.—Voters in this school district today, by an overwhelming majority, carried the school bond issue of $60,000, which was balloted on at a special election. There was virtually no opposition to the bonds, which will be used for the erection of a new high school on a site adjoining that occupied by the present school.

Efficiency Bureau's Recommendation for Independent Stands Unheeded.

The District Commissioners will be asked to explain why they have not carried out the recommendations of the Gibson (Republican), of Vermont, announced yesterday. Gibson will send a letter to the Commissioners today, asking them to submit their explanation in writing.

At a hearing before Gibson's investigating subcommittee yesterday, Representative Hammer (Democrat), of North Carolina, declared that there are "powerful interests" behind the taxicab panies that have concessions in front of the hotels here.

"I have little faith in what is being done to correct the situation," the North Carolinian said.

Donald P. Evans, an investigator for the Bureau of Efficiency, told the subcommittee that as far back as last July the bureau had recommended to the Commissioners that public hack stands be established wherever they were needed, regardless of whether they interfered with the business of the companies having hotel concessions.

The bureau, Evans said, also had auggested that all taxicabs designed to serve hotels be given L (livery) license tags. They then would be prohibited from picking up any passengers except those patronizing the hotel.

Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, and inspector E. W. Brown, of the Traffic Bureau, favor the plan of the Bureau of Efficiency, Evans said, and add recommended 200 public hack stands in the city.

All that the Commissioners have done. Evans said, is to establish 25 hack stands. And these, he said, are so located that they do not interfere with the hotel concessions.

Collect $12,000 Annually.

The hotels, Evans said, are collecting $42,000 a year from the taxicab concessions.

Collect $12,000 Annually.

The hotels, Evans said, are dolocated the position of granting licenses to the independent hackers and of then denying them reasonable facilities for carrying on their business."

It was at this point that Hammer charged that "powerful influences" seemed to be behind the concessions.

The number of hack stands in the city, Evans said, is woefully inadequate The independent cab companies, he said, have been complaining of the situation for some time, but have been given no relief.
